Firemen Hear Defense Talk

The regular meeting of the Western Maine Firemen's Association was called to order at 8:05 Monday evening by President Bob Blake, Bethel, preceded by a supper in the Fryeburg Legion Hall at 6:30.

Records of the last meeting were read by Secretary Charles J. Freeman, Bethel, and approved by the group. The Treasurer's report was accepted.

It was voted to postpone the proposed three-point meeting (WMPA, CCVFA, YCFA) until further notice. It was also voted to post during each meeting a list of towns in the order of their paying dues.

Cliff Denison introduced the speaker, Lt. Col. Wallace Lovell, Harrison, former Maine State Prison warden, who used Civil Defense as his subject. He presented movies showing the effect of the A-Bomb and a March of Time, through the courtesy of Fryeburg Academy, who kindly loaned their projector. A little trouble with the sound was soon remedied by George Lord and Charles Freeman, both licensed projectionists in Maine.

It was voted to hold the next meeting on Monday, Dec. 10, in Sweden, at which time a supper will be held at 6:30. Movies will undoubtedly be shown.

Roll call Monday showed 15 towns represented as follows: Bethel 6; Bridgton 1; Brownfield 2; Conway 4; East Conway 1; Fryeburg 17; Harrison 9; Hiram 3; Lovell 11; North Chatham 4; Norway 6; South Bridgton 3; South Paris 3; Sweden 5. Total 81.

Mr and Mrs Bruce Bailey of Massachusetts visited relatives in town during the week end.

Richard Hamlin of Falmouth visited his grandparents, Mr and Mrs E. Davis, last week.

Mrs Besse Soule and Mrs Alma Lafayette of Portland spent the week end in town with relatives.

Mr and Mrs Clayton Hall and daughter Call of Freeport visited Mr and Mrs Earlon Paine last week.

Mr and Mrs Frederick Scribner and family of Dixfield were weekend guests of her mother, Mrs Gladys Bean.

Mr and Mrs Fillmore Clough and daughter have gone to Florida where Mr and Mrs Clough have employment.

Mr and Mrs Earlon Paine and children have been visiting Mrs Ruth Dorion and daughter Sarah in Cambridge, Mass.

Mrs Avon Severance and daughter are spending two weeks with her parents, Mr and Mrs Simon Deveau, in Monticello.

Mr and Mrs Wilbur Myers, with Mr and Mrs Philip Cummings of Locke Mills, have been hunting at Rangeley several days this week.

Mr and Mrs Robert Herzing and family returned to Patuxent River, Maryland, Monday after a visit with E. O. Donahue and family.

Herbert R. Bush and friend, Mr Anderson, of Old Orchard Beach and H. I. Bean were at Camp Laycock, Albany, during the week end.

Miss Rachel Brown, Blake MacKay, Bonnie and Lorraine Eames were weekend guests of Mr and Mrs Ernest MacKay at Wytopitlock.

Misses Janice Lord and Patricia Rolfe attended the house party at Alpha Tau Omega fraternity during the week end at the University of Maine Home Coming Week.

Mrs Grace Swan and Mrs Sylvia Conroy returned last Friday from Massachusetts, where they visited Rupert Conroy and family in Readings and other relatives in Everett.

Edmund Smith is recovering from a head injury received Wednesday when an iron bar struck him while he was working on a bridge over his farm in Mason. Two stitches were necessary to close the wound.

The Week in Oxford County

The second unit of the new wood flour mill of the Wilne Wood Products Co., South Paris, is in limited operation. Four stories of concrete, 45 feet high above foundations, have been set up. These floors are to store material for the flour mill.

The Norway Heading Club was hostess to a joint meeting of Districts 3 and 4, Maine Federation of Women's Club, Wednesday, Nov. 14, at the Second Congregational Church.

Deputy Sheriff Charles H. Hammond of South Paris was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging manslaughter in the fatal shooting.

The Citizen will be published on Wednesday next week. All contributors and advertisers are asked to have matter for publication in our hands a day earlier than usual.

JACK-AND-THE-BEANSTALK ATTRACTION AT GYMNASIUM SATURDAY MORNING

The presentation of "Jack-and-the-Beanstalk" by the Children's Theatre of Portland, sponsored by the Bethel Players, at William Bingham Gymnasium Saturday morning at 10:30 promises to be one of the more popular fall attractions for the younger citizens. The Portland group played Rumplitskin here last year to an enthusiastic audience.

The local appearance is one of several to be given throughout the state, the first two performances being at Portland last month.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The American Legion Auxiliary held a regular meeting at the Legion home Tuesday evening with 12 members present.

The gifts for the Gift Shop at Togus were brought out ready to pack, also a sunshine box for Mrs Asa Bartlett was packed.

It was reported the new gas stove had been installed. The membership chairman reported 42 paid up members to date.

Roll call Monday showed 15 towns represented as follows: Bethel 6; Bridgton 1; Brownfield 2; Conway 4; East Conway 1; Fryeburg 17; Harrison 9; Hiram 3; Lovell 11; North Chatham 4; Norway 6; South Bridgton 3; South Paris 3; Sweden 5. Total 81.

Movies preceded the meeting.

These films were on the Atomic Bomb and were very interesting.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

BETHEL AND VICINITY

Mrs Asa Bartlett was in Portland Tuesday.

Mrs Phillips Brooks spent last week with Mr Brooks at Island Pond, Vt.

Maynard Austin of Houlton visited his mother, Mrs H. P. Austin, over the holiday week end.

SPECIALIST HEADS STATE NUTRITION COMMITTEE

Friends of Dr Kathryn E. Bruns, Extension Service foods specialist of the University of Maine, will be interested to know that she has been elected chairman of the Maine State Nutrition Committee. She succeeds Dr E. W. Peasey, Augusta dentist.

The election was held Thursday afternoon at Portland following a talk by Dr Eugene Whitehead, of Harvard University.

Mrs Mary Ross, of Augusta, nutrition consultant for the State Department of Health and Welfare, was elected secretary of the committee.

The committee studies the foods habits of Maine people and recommends what needs to be done to improve the nutritional level of the state.

Wednesday morning, Nov. 14, the Spanish classes of Gould Academy reenacted a bullfight. The purpose was to educate as well as to entertain. They showed that a bullfight is an art, whose participants are skilled artists. They also emphasized the work of the team of helpers who aid the matador or bullfighter, and the important role the gallery has in applauding or hissing the matador, depending on his skill.

The different parts, including the bull, were taken by the Spanish students, who acted out the fight while the narrator, another student, described the sequence of events. A song started off the affair followed by an explanation the bullfight began with everyone in costume, including the bull.

It was a colorful and gay arena that shared its knowledge with an appreciative student body.

GOULD HOLDS OFF FRYEBURG, WINS 26-19

Gould Academy finished its 1951 schedule with a 26-19 victory over Fryeburg for their third straight victory and their fourth of the season game schedule. Fryeburg had scouted Gould the two previous games and was bent on stopping Symons; only to have Johnson, this time, scamper for three touchdowns, one on a 92 yard dash! Symons scored the other T. D. The two extra points came by way of punts, Johnson to Symons and Agnew to Hastings. Long gains were accounted for by Symons, Johnson and Burnham.

ENGLAND'S SORRY PLIGHT?

There is an irony in the results of the British elections that should not be overlooked in America. Before the world, England has tried to do better for six years and now has stampeded it to failure by electing a Conservative Party government. Not England hasn't voted for Britain. The irony is that England named not itself of Britain by the ballot. In six short years the decay has spread too far and this is a fact upon which many nations, especially our own U.S.A., can still think long and seriously.

The election has been well received and presented for a few years to take its toll in production and progress, and it has been allowed to eat away at the heart and body and moral fiber of a nation. It cannot then be easily replaced with greater replacement. You can't push a button or snap a finger to transform a bankrupt Britain into something better.

Little QuickSand

Not there is more than irony in England's present predicament. There is even the same fate to follow in the south of England. It follows because once you put both feet in it you're caught fast. Evidence to the south the English did not care for Conservatives to be a longer program and that did not even work. They had hoped to make a new step of the liberal program could prove to be reversal if the swing the England still regarded a continuation of the old as a mode of government way of life.

England's Conservative Party can't fail to bring strategic and economic weak. There is no doubt that England's core financial base again to increase as it did in 1945 figures. What's wrong? In a recent NEW YORK DAILY NEWS article on postmaster as preferred as preferred as preferred to Communism with a man standing up against it. He said he better than a chance to go to a German labor camp for a lifetime said London's Mr. Ferguson said. This kind of action will be created under a new basis of greed if implemented.

Hungry People

Now in Oxford a story have the people had to submit to rationing for a year to prime time as they have had to do under Churchill. At the end of the six years those left to work are everlasting hunger. There was enough to eat, but there's nothing to buy what food. If there is available. The government planers have bungled everything.

It would be painful to return to go back to the steel today. The others has already lost in the process of being eliminated. That may be part of it. We have to accept membership. We have to continue to the old status. Long as it is to be done with our country. The planers have bungled everything. And the only "We're State" functionaries are to sacrifice the working industries. It would be a good to private ownership. But the others has taken out of us from the one considerable private wealth of three billion. There has not yet been capital to buy their and pull into operation these large and expensive cities. And certainly private investment. But the American should take a long time before making an investment in a backdrop of strong cities.

The Radical Left

There are also grave questions concerning England's political to the extreme left. But Socialists as such were defeated. The American liberal and moderate left wing factions are of some strength. Some characters

Emotional Problems

"FEW OF US are so well trained, so well developed that we never suffer from emotional problems. However, most of us have the capacity to solve those problems through force of character," says Dr. Harry J. Johnson, in his book Invitation to Health. Then he goes on to say:

"To be mentally well, one must accept and adhere to a standard of right conduct. Departure from an ethical principle does not insure a mental breakdown; nevertheless, to the extent that one departs from a right standard, to that extent he injures his mental health."

"If you consider the counsel of the ten commandments, it is easy to believe that anyone who accepts and lives up to them is a person in good mental health."

"Religion provides to a majority of the population a standard of conduct which, when accepted and lived up to, is conducive to keeping one in mental health. The fact that some mentally ill persons express their warped state in religious fancies of hysteria should in no way reflect against religion."

"If one is so emotionally disturbed that he can't help himself and finds it necessary to seek outside help, it is well to get the advice of a physician trained in the field of psychiatry."

"A psychiatrist is, first of all, a physician who has been trained in the fundamentals of medical diagnosis and healing. He then studies to become a specialist in diseases of the mind. He is like medical specialists in other fields; like an ophthalmologist, who is a physician specializing in diseases of the eye; or like an otologist, who is a physician specializing in diseases of the ear. The point to remember is that, first of all, the psychiatrist is a physician. A battle he has been fighting these long years has been to persuade the public that mental disease exists before the breakdown stage. Today it is pretty well accepted that a person may be mentally ill but seldom so ill that he must be institutionalized."

This book is so full of good advice that I advise you to read it. You will derive benefit even though you may not be emotionally disturbed.

THIS WEEK IN Washington

WITH ONLY a temporary guard of members left Washington with the Congress in adjournment, Senator McCarthy's objection to the "atomic spy" congress was set to keep several of its programs going during the session period, including that of the other movement towards "Texas soldiers" when General Clark ordered the 20th division to cross the Rapido river with heavy loss of life during World War II. The Senate action for a full-scale investigation of Senator Joseph McCarthy and his aids and giving a shot in the arm when Brig. Gen. Conrad E. Cawie, a Republican and chairman of the State Department Loyalty Security Board, said regarding the McCarthy charges against the state department:

"This day, despite all his clamor about Communists in the state department, I am not aware of a single item of new evidence of disloyalty which Senator McCarthy has contributed for the assistance of the loyalty-security board in its continuing and continuous efforts to pass on all allegations of disloyalty. The board thought the other day it might have some help from the senator. He alleged on the floor of the senate that a department employee was associating with a Communist. An inquiry made of the senator for the name of the Communist, his office replied that the senator had had the name in his hand when he made the statement, on a slip of paper, but he had lost the statement."

Investigations are that one of the first questions to be laid before the second session of the congress will be one supposed to have been set in this case, but which was only aggravated that was the question of postal rates. The congress opened postal rates some $25,000,000 but at the same time increased postal expenses some $12,000,000 through pay raises to postal employees, thus increasing instead of decreasing the postal dollar postal department deficit.

What promised to be one of the most controversial questions before the next session of the Congress is leisure not the President's nomination of General Mark Clark as ambassador to the Vatican City, an independent sovereign state promised to appear before a senate committee Nov. 18.

A bill if it comes to the floor in the next session will certainly start an old fashioned southern Democratic filibuster. It is a bill introduced by Senator William Benton, Connecticut, proposing a senate review to eliminate "antiquated procedure" to prevent filibusters. The bill's purpose is to prevent the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has declared against the political struggle in the areas immediately ahead to be dominated by a fading Churchill and a rising strongman De Gaulle. De Gaulle's brand of socialism is very much like that of Marc Chagall. In a chaotic Britain he might develop into a splintered and magnetic appeal to a weary, divided people. That's one way experts have come to power.

If England's 10 million people would pitch in and go to work, to setting work weeks, full employment, fair share, free medicine, free dental and their phony "service," the nation could, in fact, become strong again master of the world. Only if it is doubtful that the Conservative Party could ever win an exciting demand upon the people. Instead, the report is that Churchill will soon be proceeding to America. His purpose: To obtain a loan. If it fails to help reorganize England after England's right bought in by the example of the United States should fight to Americans. We have already been taking small doses of the same poison.

WARM-UP TIME

Economic Highlights . . .

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual — National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare.

U. S. allies now is about 13 to 1, and is rising gradually week by week."

It is common knowledge that our major ally, Great Britain, has small stomach for the Korean war, and only came along because, in the current state of world affairs, there was nothing else she could do. Britain feels that it would be economically impossible for her to break off all relations with China, regardless of who runs the Chinese government. She also feels that an extension of the war in the Far East would mean the loss of Hong Kong and other key Crown colonies and possessions. She can marshal strong arguments in support of her position. But whether those arguments are valid or not in the strong light of history, this situation adds still more somber intricacies to the Korean conflict.

It was General MacArthur's contention that the war must be carried to the heart of the enemy, which means to the heart of China. It was for stating and restating this that he was relieved. Yet, if all else fails, the American government, though reluctantly, may be forced into that course. It is inconceivable that the war should be allowed to go on indefinitely. The drain on our manpower is too great.

On the bright side are reports from the front that the losses taken by the Chinese, in men and equipment, have been incredibly high—so high that is doubtful if they are in a position to mount new major offensives. And the fighting grows—and has been buttressed by the most recent atomic tests in Nevada—that tremendous new lethal weapons, suitable for tactical use by ground troops, may be on the way. Hope is strong that the Chinese may be losing their stomach for fighting, and that Russia may conclude that this particular Red cause is lost. In the meantime, the Korean war is unlike any this nation has ever fought.

BRYANT POND

Mrs. Edith C. Abbott

The Bryant Pond Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Tressa Stowell Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Esther Dunlap was in charge of the program on "Holliday Decorations" and arrangements were made. It was voted to give a book, "Places American Gardening," to the Library. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Dunlap and Mrs. Margaret Wheeler. Mrs. Remsen will entertain the Club at her home for a Christmas meeting, Dec. 13.

A 6:30 supper preceded the meeting of Jefferson Chapter, O. E. S., Friday night, when Past Matrons' and Past Patrons' Night was observed. Thirty-six Past Matrons and Patrons from Jefferson Chapter and four from visiting Chapters were present. One charter member, Dana O'Dudley, attended. A pretty floral ceremony was held and gifts were presented to the honor guests. An interesting report of Chapters visited in Florida was given by Mrs. Edwin J. Mann. Colored slides of scenes in Maine, Florida, California, and other places were shown by Mr. and Mrs. Mann.

P. F. Elden Hathaway served as Worthy Patron Thursday night at Guest Officers' Night in Pine Cone Chapter, Auburn, while P. M. Cora Bennett and P. M. Annie Bryant were invited to serve as Marshal and Chaplain at Oxford Chapter, Norway, Tuesday night.

Peter Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Thompson, was at Rumford Community Hospital Thursday for a tonsillectomy and removal of adenoids. He was accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Haskell, R. N.

Miss Donna Littlehale, Wilson's Mills, visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ordway, last week.

Mrs. Donald Hooper, South Portland, was the weekend guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Billings.

Mrs. Irving Cushman and daughter Iris Jane of Auburn spent Monday and Tuesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bryant.

Grand Protector Marlon Mason and the following members of Evergreen Temple, P. S., attended Guest Officers' Night at Mishemokwa Temple, P. S., Hanover, Friday night, serving as officers: Yvonne Porter, M. E. C.; Myrtle Clifford, Ex. Jun.; Blanche Berryman, Manager; and Ella Cole, Secretary.

Mrs. Lottie Hemingway is recovering slowly from a fall, in which bones were dislocated and tendons strained in her left hand.

Mrs. Harrington suffered a recent fall injuring her shoulder and arm.

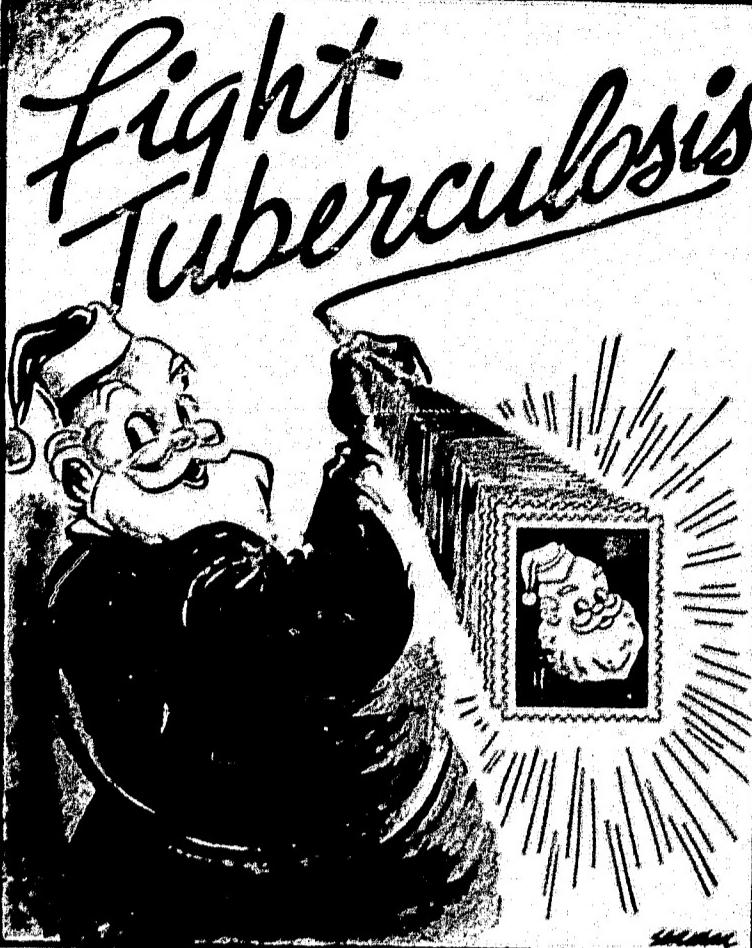

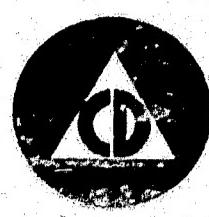

Mrs. René Howe, Dept. Vice-President of Second District, American Legion Auxiliary, will visit the Nelson Conley Unit, American Legion Auxiliary, Lisbon Falls, Nov. 16.

The meeting of the Star Birthday Club has been postponed until Nov. 15 to Nov. 29, and will be held at the home of Mrs. Eva Titus, South Paris.

"Planning for Christmas was the topic of the meeting of the Woodstock Extension Group Tuesday, in charge of Mrs. Sadie Lakeway and Mrs. Nellie Bowker. An interesting display of gifts and suggestions were arranged by them and many brought by members. The nominating committee reported the following officers who were elected: Chairman, Mrs. Sadie Lakeway; Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Eva Mills; Foods, Mrs. Annie Morgan; Clothing, Mrs. Cleo Billings; Home Management, Mrs. Adelyn Mann. The Planning Meeting will be held Dec. 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Volney Lakeway entertained at a dinner party Sunday night in honor of their daughter, Mrs. Arthur Farrington's, birthday. Those present included: Shirl Lakeway; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Olson and son, Norman, Daviaville, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Farrington and family, and Alton Hathaway. A birthday cake was made by Mrs. Farrington's daughter, Linda.

"Apples in Appealing Ways" is the title of Leaflet No. 512 of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It's free from the Extension Service, University of Maine, Orono.

The Right Christmas SpiritCIVIL DEFENSE*PUBLIC SAFETY

What is civil defense and why do we need it?

Civil defense is a plan to save lives and property. It's a plan designed to protect you and your family in case of attack on the United States. It is a way of keeping you and essential production going, in spite of atomic, biological or chemical attacks. The national, state and local civil defense organizations must be ready to combat and absorb the effects of attacks by any and all weapons, in order that our population may survive and continue to provide maximum industrial support for the armed forces.

How would civil defense help us?

We cannot prevent enemy attacks from happening—but we can minimize and keep them from knocking us out. If we know what to do we can save lives and property, restore our cities and get back into the fight. There are ways to rescue the trapped and injured, cut fire losses and to minimize health and safety. There are good defenses against biological warfare and radiation (nukes). Civil defense services are organized to bring in help from outside, and to get stricken cities back into working order in the shortest possible time. But we must face facts—civil defense takes planning, organization and a lot of hard work.

Would you know what to do in case of enemy attack? If not, it is time you found out! Your Local CD Director has the information; your County CD Director has the information; your State CD Director has the information. It won't do you much good unless you have that information.

Do two things now: See your Local CD Director and find out what you can do in the program, then, act upon it!

THE AMERICAN WAY CAN WE AFFORD TO COMPROMISE?

by DeWitt
Emery

(EDITOR'S NOTE: DeWitt Emery is president of the National Small Business Men's Association.)

Almost before we know it will be into 1952. History may record it as the year in which "government of the people, by the people, for the people" disappeared from the face of the earth. In my judgment, that is exactly what history will record if the big spending, socialist policies of the present administration are approved by the people at the polls in November.

This country, bit by bit, over a period of many years, has taken a long way down the road to national socialism. This has been done without the people ever having been given a clear-cut choice between constitutional government and socialism, between the welfare state and free enterprise. They must be given such a choice in '52, otherwise what Lincoln described as "the last best hope of earth" will be lost by default.

This means, of course, that the Republican Party must come up with a candidate who is untainted by compromise, a candidate who is and always has been as much for the United States and American institutions as Winston Churchill always has been for England and the British Empire.

If this is what's needed, then that candidate must literally be selected by the people. If the choice is left to the politicians, they will nominate politicians and the first and foremost characteristic of almost any politician, irrespective of his party label, is compromise, and that won't do this time.

But, I hear someone say, the first consideration of the Republicans must be to nominate someone who has a chance to win even if he is forced to compromise and even if he believes that a little socialism is a good thing. To that I say no, a thousand times no. Such a candidate would be an embarrassment to our party. In previous campaigns covering various kinds of special privileges for different groups and that won't do either this time.

The candidate this time, over and above everything else, must be the personification of fundamental Americanism. He must have lived his entire life as a devout believer in the American way of life to the greatest degree ever known to mankind one place on the face of this earth. He must also be a dedicated believer in the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. He must believe further that he is the people who must take care of the government, not that the government must take care of the people.

Such a candidate would give the American people the clear-cut choice they never had had and which I firmly believe they must be given before it is too late. As I see it, 1952 is the last chance there will be to give them such a choice.

I have another objection which is that since the Republican convention will be made up of and controlled by politicians and since the politicians won't want any part of the kind of candidate I have described, it would be impossible for him to get the nomination. On the face of it, this seems to present an insurmountable obstacle, but wonder if it does. I don't think so.

I have an idea that if the American people actually want a clear-cut choice between these two diametrically opposed ideologies of government, they will vote behind the candidate of their choice and will put as much heat on the delegations to the convention before the convention opens that the delegates will dare disregard their wishes.

Where and when will the people find the candidate behind whom they can rally? Who knows? But all the way through the history of this country, times like these have produced a "man of the times" usually from an unexpected quarter, and I am confident that this next critical time will be an exception.

It's natural and the nobleness that lies in other men, sleeping, but never dead, will rise to maturity to meet this crisis.

James Russell Lowell said: "Men's 4-10 club members are developing talents for greater causes."

EASY DOES IT

WHEN YOU'RE COOKING any mixtures that contain a substantial amount of egg yolks, use a stainless steel or wooden spoon or fork, rather than silver, for stirring. Silver tarnishes readily, when used with egg yolks.

If you don't have paper pans, use heat-resistant glass cups for baking two double hot breads. Fill the cup well and set it in a baking pan with a lot of fat. Even to heat it, add another ring of fat around the cup. The eggs have to be hot when used.

Use a well-lubricated vegetable brush to rub off each bit of starch from a coarse mold when they have stuck to your grater.
This will make eating easier.

Preparing a gelatin dessert is easy if you boil over the heat of your range burner for a few seconds.
Shake gently to loosen. Put plate upside down on top of mold and invert. Lift off mold and garnish.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Chicken Rice Pie
(Serves 8)
1 1/2 pounds fowl, cut in pieces
4 cups hot water
1 onion, sliced
1 tablespoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons pepper
2 tablespoons powdered allspice
2 cups sliced celery
2 cups sliced carrots
1 cup uncooked white rice
Finely minced giblets

With fowl. Heat water in heavy kettle. Add seasonings, onion and fowl. Cover and simmer for 2½ to 3 hours, until fowl tender. Add carrots, rice, giblets and cover and cook for 20 minutes until rice is tender.
Thicken with flour and water paste, if desired.

Put a thin brush through a garlic clove and rub across a saucer draining off excess oil. Then run the clove across the bottom of the dish ready where the butter is required to be melted.

If dried rolls have a crusty crust and you want to add it to the dish with melted butter or oil, rub the crust after they are baked.

If your muffins taste bad when immediately after eating, it will be because they are not done enough. If very dry, run the heat a little longer to toast them.

U.S. Must Build Civil Defense

RURAL AMERICA HAS IMPORTANT PART IN PROTECTING HOME FRONT

This is the second of a series of articles on civil defense, based on the booklet "This Is Civil Defense," prepared by the Federal Civil Defense Administration. It may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., for 10 cents.

By MILLARD CALDWELL
Federal Civil Defense Administrator

Even if forewarned of war, our armed forces cannot prevent attack, for there is no sure way of keeping enemy planes from getting through our defenses. The enemy's first objective would be to upset the war efforts of the civilian population, as well as to destroy property and to kill and injure people. His aim would be to make you quit, leave your jobs, desert your homes and start panic among you. Panic can take a tremendous toll of lives. It also can bring production to a stand-still.

It is the task of the civil defense to organize and train millions of Americans so that each one will be prepared to render the best protective service at the moment it is needed.

Your aim should be to accept that training so that you will know how to rescue the trapped and injured, know how to work with volunteer fire-fighting units, know how to prevent panic and know how to perform any of the specific duties of civil defense, particularly those you have indicated, in your training; that you are best qualified to do.

There are ways to save thousands of people from the effects of blast, radioactivity and heat from the atomic bomb. There are ways to take shelter, to rescue the trapped and injured, and ways to cut fire losses to a minimum. Organized civil defense can do those things.

The atomic bomb is too expensive to use purposely on a farm community. However, this relative freedom from attack only adds to the responsibility of the people who live in such areas. Civilians away from the target area will be better able, mentally and physically, to cope with situations of disaster.

Civil defense services are organized to bring in help from outside, and to get a stricken city back into working order in the shortest possible time. It provides food, shelter and medical care for victims of attack.

Defense Takes Planning

Civil defense takes planning, organization, and a lot of hard work.

There are jobs for you. Find out where you can serve your family, your community and yourself the best. Then volunteer for the work you are best suited to do.

Civil defense cannot protect every life and every home, but it will save thousands of lives—may be your life or the life of someone close to you.

The next article will discuss what would happen if an A-bomb fell on your city without civil defense.

Farm People Needed

With cars, trucks and tractors available, farm people are well equipped to aid any stricken area within their reach. Mobile support, rescue and evacuation work are phases of civil defense that rural folk are especially qualified to do. To do any of them without confusion and delay, you must be organized and trained.

Extension Service Economist

In the afternoon, dairy and potato sessions will be held with frequent field trips included. Herbert A. Leonard, associate professor of animal husbandry, will direct the dairy sessions and Dr. Roland A. Struchtemeyer, head of the agronomy department, is in charge of the potato group. Associate Dean Winthrop G. Libby, of the College of Agriculture, is in charge of the Trainee Institute.

MAINE FARM FAMILIES ASKED TO INVITE FOREIGN TRAINEES FOR THANKSGIVING

Maine farm families have been asked to consider inviting one or more of the 24 foreign agricultural trainees who will be at the University of Maine from November 12 to December 1 to spend the Thanksgiving weekend at their homes.

Richard C Dolloff, county agent leader for the Extension Service, who is a member of the Foreign Agricultural Trainee Institute committee, requested all interested farm families in Penobscot, Hancock, Waldo, or Piscataquis counties to contact one of their county Extension agents at once.

"It is imperative that farm families learn about biological warfare and how to protect for it. While you are protecting your family and your livestock from infections and your crops from infestations, you are cooperating with the civil defense program.

There are ways of keeping disease from spreading, and of protecting our food and water supplies. Civil defense, working with existing health agencies and physicians, attends to that job.

We should be prepared to cope with poison gases. And we can be, for there are good defenses against them. There are ways of sharply reducing losses from gas attacks, and civil defense provides the best answers.

Civil defense services are organized to bring in help from outside, and to get a stricken city back into working order in the shortest possible time. It provides food, shelter and medical care for victims of attack.

your group for he speaks excellent English and reads and writes it very well, too. I'm sure you'll find him very helpful during your discussion group meetings.

"We are no fortune to have them to do so for a week end. He urged them to contact their county Extension agents at once.

more than we've given, we feel!" Dolloff pointed out that this is an excellent opportunity for Maine farm families who have not yet had foreign trainees on their farms to do so for a week end. He urged them to contact their county Extension agents at once.

"Cocktail?"

(Her: "She'll think I'm a sad sack if I say no!")

(She: "I don't want it, but what will be think?")

Do you have to drink, when you're out on a date or a party?

You might think so, to read some advertisements or listen to some radio shows.

Millions of dollars in liquor propaga-nanda are saturating the public with the idea that drinking is socially indispensable.

Smartly dressed men and women, in lavish surroundings, eagerly consume the advertiser's product. Handsome athletes, beautiful girls, even grandmothers try hard to push the public into believing that everyone drinks. Text and commercials imply that alcohol is safe as milk.

But what are the facts?

Actually, liquor is far from the beneficial product that its manufacturers would have you believe. Most people, including those who drink, know that alcohol often causes irreparable harm. It is a depressant, not a stimulant.

One out of twenty drinkers becomes an alcoholic.

Why not determine your attitude toward drinking from your viewpoint —not from the viewpoint of those who visit by what you drink? It is a fact that alcohol cannot help you attain health, happiness, or financial security.

It is a fact that alcohol can easily cause you to miss out on these. Why be misled by propaganda to the contrary?

For the fact is, again, that drinking is not essential socially, or otherwise.
You can get along fine without it. And you need never hesitate to say, "No, thanks, I don't drink." You'll be thought the better of, and feel better, for saying so.

You can get along fine without it!

APPLE RECIPE BOOKLET OFFERED

Maine homemakers are finding delicious apples from Pine Tree State orchards being sold at reasonable prices now. For suggestions on how to use these apples in a variety of ways, the Maine Extension Service is offering free Leaflet No. 212, "Apples in Appealing Ways." Many interesting and unusual recipes for apples are given, as well as some of the old standbys. Free copies of this U. S. Department of Agriculture leaflet may be obtained by writing the Agricultural Experiment Station, University of Maine, Orono.

INSECT AUTHORITY ADVISES DESTROYING CORN STALKS

Maine gardeners and commercial growers can help control the European corn borer by destroying corn stalks this fall, says Dr John Hunkins, associate entomologist of the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station. He recommends destroying both corn refuse and the borers by placing them under clean or in burning. The borers are now hibernating in corn stalks standing fields or gardens or lying on the surface of the ground.

The brick school building on High Street, first occupied by classes in 1894, presents a deserted appearance this fall when compared with its busy existence for 57 years. The old structure, still in good condition, was purchased for $60,000 by Gould Academy, an appreciated contribution toward the expense of the new building at the Crescent grounds.

The old building, erected in 1893, marked the conclusion of several years of heated discussion in the period of the beginning of the end of the district school system. The town's 30 school districts had been reduced to 15. The superintendent of schools, N F Brown, advised the sale of the buildings in the W W Mason district, Steam Mill, Pine Woods, Bean's Ferry, Foster neighborhood, L N Bartlett's, John Barker's and one of the Northwest Bethel buildings.

The cost of the brick building was $15,918.00. This included $800 paid J M Philbrick for land; $10,400 paid the contractor, H Furlong & Co., besides $500 more for slate roof, granite sills, slate and attic floor; and other charges for cementing cellar, grading, plumbing, furnaces, architect, steps, desks and concrete walks. The old schoolhouses on Broad and Mechanic Streets brought $800.

Until the erection of the primary school building in 1925 the four rooms in the brick building provided for all eight or nine grades.

The Academy officials as yet have not announced the future use of the building.

The above photograph was taken about 50 years ago.

SNAPPY EIGHT 4-H CLUB

The second meeting of the Snappy Eight 4-H Club was called to order by the president, Clara Foster, Nov. 8.

The secretary's report was read and accepted and the treasurer received 40 cents from the collection making a total of 40 cents in the treasury.

There was no old business at this meeting. Under new business, Susie Ingalls, Arlene Coolidge, and Evelyn Verrell were nominated as a Committee to plan a Christmas basket to sell chances on to raise money.

It was also voted to have our judging contest at the next meeting if possible. We decided that the leader would keep our record sheets.

At the next meeting each member is supposed to bring either candy or cigarettes to send to the
